Kim Nagy Announces Candidacy for State Representative in the 88th District

GEORGETOWN TOWNSHIP, March 21, 2016-- A career long teacher and small business owner has filed for with Ottawa County and will be running for the State House of Representatives. Kim Nagy will seek to represent the 88th district, which includes Allendale, Chester, Coopersville, Georgetown, Polkton, Tallmadge and Wright Townships.

Kim was born and raised in Michigan and returned to West Michigan in 1996 after beginning her career in Chicago. She has taught in the public school system for 18 years. She received her undergraduate education from Hope College and her graduate degree from Northwestern University.

Kim has been an active member of her community and has decided to run for office because she feels the legislators in Lansing are not representing West Michigan values. "I decided to run for Representative because I believe in representational government. When the voting public makes a choice, it should stand," said Kim. Kim has been concerned with the direction of the state, especially in regards to its fiscal operations and infrastructure failures. "The State of Michigan has seen irresponsible governance for long enough. We're ready for new leadership", said Kim.

An official campaign announcement will be made on March 23rd, just outside the Georgetown Library at 5:30 pm. Kim has invited the public to join in this gathering "because this campaign is community focused and community driven, and I'd like to meet every one of the constituents of the 88th district in order to hear their concerns".
